

More magic! [Phase three]

This is a continuation from the "magic as hard science" and "magic from fantasy turned real - reportedly" threads. they introduce you to magic, divinity and psionics gateways.

This thread will deal with nature magic in the beginning, and a bit of ethereal stuff too. please familiarize yourselves with the previous threads if you want to learn these spells.

As a reminder, to make real magic, you need to light a candle and ask for spirits to reveal themselves. you need to look into the candle where blue meets yellow, making green, or, the hole in the flame, yes? as soon as you see the little faces, you need to also see little colorful spots on the walls, then you will be activated. also, you will need to learn a moderate amount of science in useful doses to prepare you for some of the spells and powers, okay?

Aerial play mate summoning.

To summon a bird, butterfly or wasp, you need to know a little bit about nature. basically, you need to observe that spirits and faeries don't understand sciences and zoology as well as you do, so you need to teach it to them, as they are simple. now! let's get to summoning [1] birds, [2] butterflies and [3] wasps!

[1] to summon a bird, you could build up a relationship with specific birds for greater control, or go for the local bird population as a general summoning. you need to think of them, and the food you will bait them with, saying to them that they will be able to play with you and each other and maybe that you might feed them, yes? this can be done emotionally, as in psionics, by projecting your emotions to them - if you are calm, they will be attracted, excited will maybe make them scared, and angry or trying to use them for pecking people's eyes out will probably chase them away, yes?

To project this emotion to them, you need to preferably plead with them to show up. that will sound like you appreciate them, that you want to show off with them - they are always young and want to play - look at bird baths, for example?

Now, the incantation for this is;

"Mikrí pouliá , érchontai gia na paíxoun , viásou échoume óli tìn ĭméra , éla grígora parakaló kai na paíxei mazí mou , mou arései kai tìn empistosýnĭ sas prágmati ."

That should do it!

[2] Now, for butterflies, you need to attract them by being violent! people always show what they are not, hiding how they feel, and this is true for them too. if you snap your fingers, as i do, they might appear to you, yes? you must be charming in some way, or excel too, as they respect power and beauty, and other advantages over others. dance for them then!

The incantation is;

"Petaloùdes , eímai edó , eímai mazí sas den échei kanénan fóvo !"

[3] To summon wasps you need to be peaceful, as they otherwise they will attack you! if you were to want to play with them, they will probably like it if you poke them between their wings, playing tag is fun, i have done it with them, and never been stung outside of my house where they do not get stuck behind glass windows and panic and stuff. these creatures are out for pollen basically like ants, you could say, collecting things for their society. unlike butterflies, these creatures need each other a lot more! so, your emotions should be 'linked' to ideals and thinking of helping people, then they will see you as a friend, yes?

The incantation is;

"WAPs tīs gīs , m 'akoús , giatí eímai énas fílos , meeitng mas tha se evīmería télos! Eláte na paíxete etikéta , egó tolmáte na , an mou tsímpīma tha chásete !"

There we go! remember to think of things that will bring them to you, if you see something else other than what you are calling, then you know that your own energies are not tuned in, yes?

Aerial playmate communication.

If you have attracted your flying friend, then you can try to do other things than fee them and play with them. you could get feedback on how the universe consciousness feels about you, or get advice! it will just come to you, first you will feel an emotion, then you will think something you usually do not think, then you will understand. maybe you will deny it, maybe you will ignore or reject it, or you could submit to the 'path of least resistance!' this will make you happier, more lucky, and a more content person too.

There is no incantation necessary for this, unless you want one;

"Petóntas tous fílous , na me dei, thélo na tīn katanóisi sas kai to sýmpan , epitrépste mou na xéro kai na aisthánontai méros kai o skopós mou ."

This should help you feel your way around, keep your feelers out there!

Aerial familiar 'commands.'

Once you have built up a relationship with a chosen type of flying thing, you will be able to dominate them or charm them. if you do this, know they might go berserk if you tell them to sting someone they like, or sit on your hand and you try to capture them, or if you want them to attack things like cats!

Let's start with something simple?

[1] making them move around requires your will to be greater than theirs, or, if you were to lie to them, or goad them, they might move to the place you want them to. you can also tell them to land on fertile ground, or choose something for you too. making them go there needs to stimulate their periphery so that it looks or sounds interesting, so, you will need to incite their curiosity so they will want to go there, oblivious of you, for, things like this only recognize base needs and wants, yes? make it interesting, use your imagination, project an image to them of the place you want them to be with food or something, yes?

The incantation for this should be, if it may be so bold;

"Petóntas fílos , m 'akoús tóra , ypárchei káti , na to elénxete éxo !"

[2] to make them come to you, you need to make them think of you as a mate for them! this can be done by making your skin secrete things they like, like pollen or seeds from flowers yes? this will require some work, of course;

A cyanide is any chemical compound that contains monovalent combining group CN. This group, known as the cyano group, consists of a carbon atom triple-bonded to a nitrogen atom.<sup>[1]</sup>In inorganic cyanides, such as sodium cyanide, NaCN, this group is present as the negatively charged polyatomic cyanide ion (CN−); these compounds, which are regarded as salts of hydrocyanic acid, are highly toxic. The cyanide ion isoelectronic with carbon monoxide and with molecular nitrogen.[2][3] Most cyanides are highly toxic.[4] Organic cyanides are usually called nitriles; in these, the CN group is linked by a covalent bond to a carbon-containing group, such as methyl (CH<sub>3</sub>) in methyl cyanide (acetonitrile). Hydrocyanic acid, also known as hydrogen cyanide, or HCN, is a highly volatile liquid used to prepare acrylonitrile, which is used in the production of acrylic fibers, synthetic rubber, and plastics. Cyanides are employed in a number of chemical processes, including fumigation, case hardening of iron and steel, electroplating, and the concentration of ores. In nature, substances yielding cyanide are present in certain seeds, such as the pit of the cherry and the seeds of apples

And, to make it easier, you could coat your hands with some chloride, yes? maybe rub your hands with crushed apple seeds?

The incantation for this is;

"Coem edō parakalō , sas lígo filóso , í tha to páro to $#@!
itó sas , aftó tha odigísei se éna télos promsiing , an den Coe tha íthela na pō óti éinai agenís !"

[3] making a bird or wasp attack is done by first;

[3.1] summoning it,

[3.2] communicating with it,
[3.3] being close to it so it recognizes you.

Then, you can make ti feel what you feel, and hate who you hate, and so forth, by thinking of the people you hate! the bird or wasp is so blank to wisdom it will start to see and hear these things as if it were their own enemy! by thinking of the place you think the enemy is at, it might go there and peck or sting the person, yes? this requires some mind link from my previous thread too! you will need to learn how to make them see the world the way you do too!

The incantation for this is;

"Deíte aftó to átomo kai ti échoun káneí , na ta episímánete dýo forés móno kai móno gia diaskédasi !"

And those are the basic commands!

Angel wings!

This will allow you to see your ethereal angel wings and use them to fly! i am serious... you will be able to deflect blows with them, buffet away annoying flies, and otherwise switch them from energy to mass and illusions, quickly!

The only way to do this is divinely, through a god of your choice, but remember to keep to that god! you must promise to serve them, submit to them, and otherwise be their representative, so they cans trip you of the wings too! you need to think of them, ask them if they will take you, and then light a candle for the wish to come true!

Remember, there is a distinct personality to all gods of our solar system. Uranus is like a Jesus god, all loving and a little bit of wrath, loves the outdoors and exercise and having fun that is moral. Venus, my god, loves fertility and health and evolution and laughter, and, as an aside, adultery. Gaia loves nature and the elements, and also languages like spoken and written sorts, body language and programming languages too! Baal is the dark lord of our solar system, so i suggest you stay away from him. then there is Saturn, god of war and and family too, as well as love, like a crusader or social worker that sorts out the security of others. Jupiter is a very hard 'man' but not really war, craving success in all matters above all. then there is Mercury, husband of Venus, more war like yet loving and stuff, also into legal and administrative matters, and, wisdom and learning. then there is Neptune, super god of war and the faeries, and potent in magic. Pluto, well, i don't really know much about him, but feel free to research!

Remember, each moon is tuned into the main planet. there are slight differences, or, other aspects of the features, but we have about a hundred gods in our solar system, all affecting us with electromagnetism and other things we cannot detect yet. our prayers go as little vibrations to the planet or moon, recognizing the message through emotions, and then, well, for every action there is an equal reaction, yes?

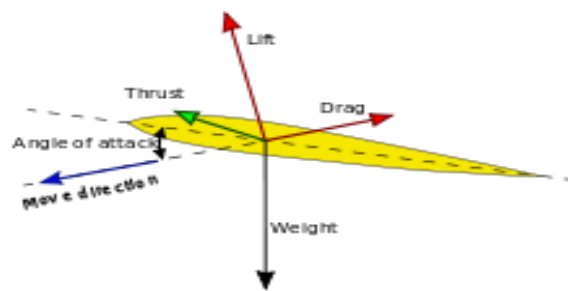

Now, to get your wings! to make them an illusion, you need to first sell your soul to your god, by lighting a candle and finding terms for your servitude, maybe over an oudja board. then, you need to master illusions from previous posts about magic, and then you can slowly make them visible, make them shadowy black and then you can make them shine if you know how to make light or lightning, yes?

If you want to be able to make them energy enough to carry you up and around, you need to understand the that mass can be overcome with location with more kinetic energy and mass. this means, you for every kilogram you weigh, you will need like 175 percent more energy, like you use for running and walking, of course. you need to displace yourself to a greater altitude as a bird;

Basic mechanics of bird flight[edit]

Forces acting on a wing. The lift force has both a forward and a vertical component.

Lift[edit]

The fundamentals of bird flight are similar to those of aircraft. Lift force is produced by the action of air flow on the wing, which is an airfoil. The lift force occurs because the air has a lower pressure just above the wings and higher pressure below. Additional net lift may come from airflow around the bird's body in some species, especially during intermittent flight while the wings are folded or semi-folded[1][2] (cf. lifting body).

Gliding[edit]

Lesser flamingos flying in formation.

When gliding, both birds and gliders obtain both a vertical and a forward force from their wings. This is possible because the lift force is generated at right angles to the air flow, which in gliding flight comes from slightly below the horizontal (because the bird is descending).

Flapping[\[edit\]](#)

When a bird flaps, as opposed to gliding, its wings continue to develop lift as before, but the lift is rotated forward to provide thrust, which counteracts drag and increases its speed, which has the effect of also increasing lift to counteract its weight, allowing it to maintain height or to climb. Flapping involves two stages: the down-stroke, which provides the majority of the thrust, and the up-stroke, which can also (depending on the bird's wings) provide some thrust. At each up-stroke the wing is slightly folded inwards to reduce the energetic cost of flapping-wing flight.<sup>[3]</sup> Birds change the angle of attack between the up-stroke and the down-stroke of their wings. During the down-stroke the angle of attack is increased, and is decreased during the up-stroke.[\[citation needed\]](#)

Drag[\[edit\]](#)

Apart from its weight, there are three major drag forces that impede a bird's aerial flight: frictional drag (caused by the friction of air and body surfaces), form drag (due to frontal area of the bird, also known as pressure drag), and lift-induced drag (caused by the wingtip vortices). These forces are reduced by streamlining the bird's body and wings.

This is how to fly! if you want to use 'energy,' then you need to create more mass and stuff than there is weight of you.

I suppose you could have your wings for twenty minutes or so at a time, yes? this sounds logical to me! if you were to fly for half an hour, you will get very tired and stuff too, yes?

To put them away, you just have to wish them away if you serve a god, or, if you are doing this out of your own energy, then there is a incantation anyways;

To get wings;

"Ėfcharistísoun ton Theó mou , na mou dósei fterá , gia séna tha kánō pollá prágmata !"

To cancel wings;

"Entáxei , ėfcharistó pou féroun eínai diaskédas̃i , nomízo óti eíche arketá , ít̃an diaskedastikó !"

This might be possible without selling your soul in servitude anyways, but it will be more effective to do that.
